Civil Action No. 3:17-cv-00072-NKM

[PROPOSED] ORDER FOR THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND EXCHANGE OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

With the Parties, by and among their respective counsel, having stipulated and agreed to the terms set forth herein, and good cause having been shown,

IT IS hereby ORDERED as follows:

- 1) Scope of Order – This Stipulation is being entered into to facilitate the production, exchange and discovery of documents and information that the parties agree merit confidential treatment (hereinafter the “Discovery”).
- 2) Designation of Discovery – Either party may designate Discovery, whether written, documentary, or testamentary, in connection with this action as “confidential” or “highly confidential” either by notation on the document, statement on the record of the deposition, written advice to the respective undersigned counsel for the parties hereto, or by other appropriate means.
- 3) Definitions – As used herein:
  - a) “Confidential Information” shall mean all Discovery, and all information contained therein, designated as confidential. A Producing Party may designate as Confidential any information that the Producing Party, in good faith, believes should be protected from public disclosure.
  - b) “Highly Confidential Information” shall mean all Discovery, and all information contained therein, designated as highly confidential. A Producing Party may designate as Highly Confidential any information including, but not limited to, personal information such as Social Security numbers, home addresses, telephone numbers, tax returns, non-party surnames and medical, investment, credit and banking information of any person, that the Producing Party, in good faith, believes should be protected from disclosure to those not permitted to receive Highly Confidential Information.

- c) “Producing Party” shall mean the parties to this action and any third parties producing Confidential or Highly Confidential Information, or the party asserting the confidentiality privilege, as the case may be.
  - d) “Receiving Party” shall mean the party to this action and/or any non-party receiving Confidential or Highly Confidential Information.
- 4) Disclosure Prohibited – Except with the prior written consent of the Producing Party or by Order of the Court, Confidential Information shall not be furnished, shown or disclosed to any person or entity except to:
- a) Parties and personnel of the Parties actually engaged in assisting in the preparation of this action for trial or other proceeding herein who have been advised of their obligations hereunder and have first executed the undertaking contained in Exhibit A to this Stipulation;
  - b) counsel for the Parties to this action and their associated attorneys, paralegals and other professional personnel (including support staff) who are directly assisting such counsel in the preparation of this action for trial or other proceeding herein, are under the supervision or control of such counsel, and who have been advised by such counsel of their obligations hereunder;
  - c) expert witnesses or consultants retained by the parties or their counsel to furnish technical or expert services in connection with this action or to give testimony with respect to the subject matter of this action at the trial of this action or other proceeding herein, and who have been advised by counsel of their obligations hereunder and have first executed the undertaking contained in Exhibit A to this Stipulation;

- d) trial or deposition witnesses;
- e) stenographers and videographers used at a deposition and who have been advised by counsel of their obligations hereunder;
- f) the Court and Court personnel; and
- g) any other person agreed to in writing by the Parties.

5) Treatment of Highly Confidential Information – Except with the prior written consent of the Producing Party or by Order of the Court, Highly Confidential Information shall not be furnished, shown or disclosed to any person or entity except to those identified in sub-paragraphs 4(b), (c), (e), (f), and (g), as well as to trial or deposition witnesses if that witness sent, received, authored, or viewed the document or information outside the context of this litigation. For the avoidance of doubt, any person or entity identified in sub-paragraphs 4(c), 4(e), and 4(g) receiving Highly Confidential Information shall first execute the undertaking contained in Exhibit A to this Stipulation.

6) Retention of Confidentiality Agreements – Outside counsel for the Party that obtains the signed undertaking contained in Exhibit A shall retain them for six (6) months following the final termination of this litigation, including any appeals, and shall make them available to other Parties upon good cause shown.

7) Storage of Confidential Information – Each Receiving Party shall use due care with respect to the storage, custody, use, and/or dissemination of Confidential or Highly Confidential Information. A person with custody of documents designed Confidential or Highly Confidential shall maintain them in a manner that limits access to those persons entitled under this Stipulation to examine the documents so designated.

8) Filing Under Seal – Any Party wishing to file Confidential or Highly Confidential Information with the Court shall, wherever possible, alert the Producing Party to the specific documents or information they wish to file sufficiently in advance of the filing to permit the Producing Party to file a motion to seal in accordance with the Court’s Local Rules, Title I, Rule 9 (“Local Rule 9”). Upon being informed that the Producing Party will file such a motion, the filing party shall file the relevant documents and information under seal. Where such advance notice is not possible, the filing party will file any Confidential or Highly Confidential Information under seal and will also file a motion to seal in accordance with Local Rule 9 requesting that the document be held under seal until such time as the Producing Party can file a motion to seal, which the Producing Party shall do within seven days.

9) Limitations on Use – Confidential and Highly Confidential Information shall be utilized by the Receiving Party and its counsel only for purposes of this action, including any appeals, and for no other purposes.

10) Presumption of Confidentiality – All testimony shall presumptively be treated as Confidential Information and subject to this Stipulation during the testimony and for a period of thirty (30) days after a transcript of said testimony is received by counsel for each of the parties. At or before the end of such thirty day period, the testimony shall be classified appropriately.

11) Restrictions of Use of Confidential Information – Any person receiving Confidential or Highly Confidential Information shall not reveal or discuss such information to or with any person not entitled to receive such information under the terms hereof.

12) Inadvertent Misdesignation – Any document or information that may contain Confidential or Highly Confidential Information that has been inadvertently produced without identification as to its confidential nature may be so designated by the party asserting the confidentiality privilege by written notice to the undersigned counsel for the Receiving Party identifying the document or information as confidential or highly confidential within a reasonable time following the discovery that the document or information has been produced without such designation.

13) Extracts and Summaries – Extracts and summaries of Confidential or Highly Confidential Information shall also be treated as confidential or highly confidential in accordance with the provisions of this Stipulation.

14) No Waiver of Confidentiality – The production or disclosure of Confidential or Highly Confidential Information shall in no way constitute a waiver of each party's right to object to the production or disclosure of other information in this action or in any other action.

15) Duration – The provisions of this Stipulation shall, absent prior written consent of both parties, continue to be binding after the conclusion of this action.

16) No Waiver of Privilege – Nothing herein shall be deemed to waive any privilege recognized by law, or shall be deemed an admission as to the admissibility in evidence of any facts or documents revealed in the course of disclosure. In the event of an inadvertent disclosure of allegedly privileged information, the Producing Party may provide notice in writing to the Receiving Party or Parties advising of the inadvertent disclosure, requesting return of the allegedly privileged information, and asserting the basis of the clawback request. Upon such notice, the Receiving Party or Parties shall make no further use of the allegedly privileged information, shall immediately segregate the information in a manner that will prevent any further disclosure or dissemination, and shall take reasonable steps to retrieve the information to the extent it was disclosed or disseminated prior to receipt of the notice. Within ten (10) calendar days of receiving the notice of inadvertent disclosure, the Receiving Party shall return all allegedly privileged information in its possession, custody, or control, or shall provide written confirmation that such information has been deleted. Within twenty (20) days of providing the notice of inadvertent disclosure, or as otherwise agreed, the Producing Party shall provide the Receiving Party or parties with a privilege log identifying the allegedly privileged information that was inadvertently disclosed and the asserted grounds for privilege, as required by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and applicable court rules.

17) Subpoenas in Other Actions – In the event a Receiving Party having possession, custody, or control of any Confidential or Highly Confidential Information produced in this action received a subpoena or other process or order to produce such information, such subpoenaed person or entity shall promptly notify by e-mail the attorneys of record of the Producing Party and shall furnish those attorneys with a copy of said subpoena or other process or order. The Receiving Party shall not produce the requested Confidential or Highly Confidential Information unless and until a court of competent jurisdiction so directs, except if the Producing Party (a) consents, or (b) fails to file a motion to quash or fails to notify the Receiving Party in writing of its intention to contest the production of the Confidential or Highly Confidential Information prior to the date designated for production of the subpoenaed information, in which event the Receiving Party may produce on the designated production date, but no earlier. The purpose of requiring the Receiving Party to wait until the designated production date for producing the Confidential or Highly Confidential Information is to afford the Producing Party an opportunity to protect its confidentiality interest in the matter or proceeding in connection with which the discovery request, subpoena, or order is issued. The Producing Party asserting the confidential treatment shall have the burden of defending against such subpoena, process, or order. The person or Party receiving the subpoena or other process or order shall be entitled to comply with it except to the extent the Producing Party asserting the confidential treatment is successful in obtaining an order modifying or quashing it.

18) Return or Destruction of Confidential Information – Within sixty (60) days after the final termination of this action by settlement or exhaustion of all motions or appeals, all Confidential or Highly Confidential Information produced or designated and all reproductions thereof, shall be returned to the Producing Party or shall be destroyed, at the option of the Producing Party. In the event that any party chooses to destroy physical objects and documents, such party shall certify in writing within sixty (60) days of the final termination of this litigation that it has undertaken its best efforts to destroy such physical objects and documents, and that such physical objects and documents have been destroyed to the best of its knowledge. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, counsel of record for the parties may retain one copy of documents constituting work product, a copy of pleadings, motion papers, discovery responses, deposition transcripts and deposition and trial exhibits, except that internal counsel and internal staff shall not retain any copies or summaries of Highly Confidential Information. This stipulation shall not be interpreted in a manner that would violate any applicable canons of ethics or codes of professional responsibility. Nothing in this stipulation shall prohibit or interfere with the ability of counsel for any party, or of experts specially retained for this case, to represent any individual, corporation, or other entity adverse to any party or its affiliate(s) in connection with any other matters.

19) Modification – This Stipulation may be changed by further order of the Court, and is without prejudice to the rights of a party to move for relief from, or modification of, any of its provisions, or to seek or agree to different or additional protection for any particular material or information.

20) Headings – The headings herein are provided only for the convenience of the Parties, and are not intended to define or limit the scope of the express terms of this Stipulation.
